

Business Line, Mumbai

26/06/2012

p-2

Purohit is CMD of NPCIL

Mumbai, June 25

Mr Kailash Chandra Purohit has taken over as Chairman and Managing Director of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Ltd (NPCIL). Mr Purohit is a distinguished scientist of the Department of Atomic Energy (DAE) and held several key positions in NPCIL prior to appointment as CMD. As Director (Projects), he was responsible for implementing all new projects at NPCIL. An electrical engineer from HBTI, Kanpur, he graduated from the 17th Batch of Training School of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) in 1973. He started his career in operation of the nuclear power plants at Rawatbhata, Kota, in

Mr K.C. Purohit

Rajasthan. He has over 38 years of experience and has made significant contributions in construction, commissioning, operation as well as renovation and modernisation of nuclear power reactors. Addressing NPCIL members, Mr Purohit said safety in all aspects of nuclear plants would be his highest priority. No stone would be left unturned in continuing the impeccable record of safety demonstrated during the last 42 years of commercial nuclear power generation, he added. — Our Bureau

Indian Express, Mumbai 26/06/2012

p-4

K C Purohit takes charge as NPCIL CMD

MUMBAI: Kailash Chandra Purohit took over as the Chairman and Managing Director (CMD) of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited (NPCIL) in Mumbai on Monday. He has taken over as the CMD at a time when the country is poised for major expansion in nuclear power coupled with resistance to it from several quarters. After taking charge, Purohit said "safety in all aspects of nuclear power plants" in India would be his top priority. He further asserted that NPCIL will take all efforts to continue the "impeccable record of safety" demonstrated during the last 42 years of commercial generation of nuclear power. ENS

Business Standard, Mumbai 26/06/2012

p-4

K C Purohit is new chairman of NPCIL

Kailash Chandra Purohit on Monday took over as the chairman and managing director of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited (NPCIL). Purohit is a distinguished scientist of the Department of Atomic Energy (DAE) and he has held several key positions in NPCIL in the past. As the director (projects), he was responsible for implementing all new projects at NPCIL. After the retirement of S K Jain as CMD on May 31, the NPCIL's director (technical) S A Bhardwaj was acting as the CMD.

BS REPORTER

Times of India, Mumbai 26/06/2012

p-6

Nuclear Power Corp gets new chief

Kailash Chandra Purohit took over as chairman and managing director of Nuclear Power Corporation (NPC) on Monday. TNN

K C Purohit is new chairman of NPCIL

Kailash Chandra Purohit on Monday took over as the chairman and managing director of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited (NPCIL). Purohit is a distinguished scientist of the Department of Atomic Energy (DAE) and he has held several key positions in NPCIL in the past. As the director (projects), he was responsible for implementing all new projects at NPCIL. After the retirement of S K Jain as CMD on May 31, the NPCIL's director (technical) S A Bhardwaj was acting as the CMD.

BS REPORTER

Purohit is CMD of NPCIL

2

Mumbai, June 25

Mr Kailash Chandra Purohit has taken over as Chairman and Managing Director of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Ltd (NPCIL). Mr Purohit is a distinguished scientist of the Department of Atomic Energy (DAE) and held several key positions in NPCIL prior to appointment as CMD. As Director (Projects), he was responsible for implementing all new projects at NPCIL. An electrical engineer from HBTI, Kanpur, he graduated from the 17th Batch of Training School of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) in 1973. He started his career in operation of the nuclear power plants at Rawatbhata, Kota, in

Mr K.C. Purohit

Rajasthan. He has over 38 years of experience and has made significant contributions in construction, commissioning, operation as well as renovation and modernisation of nuclear power reactors. Addressing NPCIL members, Mr Purohit said safety in all aspects of nuclear plants would be his highest priority. No stone would be left unturned in continuing the impeccable record of safety demonstrated during the last 42 years of commercial nuclear power generation, he added. — Our Bureau

Web News

Hindu

CMD of Nuclear Power Corporation takes charge

Kailash Chandra Purohit

Kailash Chandra Purohit, 58, Director, Projects, Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited (NPCIL), has been elevated as Chairman and Managing Director of NPCIL.

His predecessor Shreyans Kumar Jain retired from service recently to become Chairman of the Governing Board of World Association of Nuclear Operators - Tokyo Centre (WANO-TC), Japan.

At a simple function organised at the NPCIL headquarters in Mumbai, Mr. Purohit took charge as CMD in the presence of Chairman, Atomic Energy Commission, R.K. Sinha, Director, Bhabha Atomic Research Centre Sekhar Basu, and others.

Born in Nagaur district of Rajasthan on May 10, 1954, Mr. Purohit had his early education in Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh. He graduated in Electrical Engineering from HBTI, Kanpur in 1973.

He joined Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) and was posted to Rajasthan Atomic Power Station (RAPS).

Kudankulam stint

He was elevated as Officiating Station Director in 2002 for two units of VVER type reactors being constructed with Russian collaboration at Kudankulam.

He was given the twin responsibilities of Station Director as well as Project Director at Kudankulam Nuclear Power Project from 2005 onwards.

Times of India

Nuclear Power Corp gets new chief

TNN | Jun 26, 2012, 01.02AM IST

Kailash Chandra Purohit took over as chairman and managing director of Nuclear Power Corporation (NPC) on Monday following the retirement of S K Jain recently. Earlier, he was NPCIL's director for projects.

In his address to the staff immediately after taking over he emphasised that no stone would be left unturned in continuing the impeccable record of safety demonstrated during the last 42 years of commercial nuclear power generation."

Daily Pioneer

Purohit takes over as CMD of NPCIL

Kailash Chandra Purohit on Monday took over as the new Chairman & Managing Director of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited (NPCIL).

Prominent among those present at the ceremony held at the NPCIL headquarters here were: Dr Ratan Kumar Sinha, Chairman, Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) & Secretary, Department of Atomic Energy (DAE), AP Joshi, Special Secretary, DAE, Sekhar Basu, Director, Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC), SA Bhardwaj, Director (Technical), NPCIL, Dr SK Jain, former CMD, NPCIL and Chairman, WANO Governing Board, Tokyo Centre, senior officers and the employees of the organisation.

An electrical engineer from HBTI, Kanpur, he graduated from the 17th Batch of Training School of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) in 1973. Purohit has over 38 years of wide-ranging experience and has made significant contributions in construction, commissioning, operations as well as renovation and modernisation of nuclear power reactors in India.

Two Circles .net

Kailash Chandra Purohit to head NPCIL

Submitted by admin4 on 25 June 2012 - 10:00pm

By IANS,

Mumbai : Nuclear scientist and technocrat Kailash Chandra Purohit took over as the new chairman-cum-managing director (CMD) of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Ltd. (NPCIL) Monday, an official said.

The 58-year-old took over from officiating NPCIL CMD S.A. Bharadwaj following the retirement of S.K. Jain as the CMD last month.

An electrical engineer from Kanpur, Purohit graduated from the 1973 batch of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre here.

He started his career at the nuclear plants in Rawatbhata in his home state Rajasthan and obtained regulatory licences for them.

Over the years, he secured wide-ranging experience in construction, commissioning, operation, renovation and modernisation of various nuclear plants in the country.

Purohit is familiar with indigenous pressurised heavy water reactors and the latest large-size light water reactors, being set up with international collaboration in Kudankulam in Tamil Nadu.

A former governor of World Association of Nuclear Operators, Moscow, Purohit served as Kudankulam project director before becoming NPCIL director, projects.

Business Line

Purohit is CMD of NPCIL

MUMBAI, JUNE 25:

Mr Kailash Chandra Purohit has taken over as Chairman and Managing Director of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Ltd (NPCIL). Mr Purohit is a distinguished scientist of the Department of Atomic Energy (DAE) and held several key positions in NPCIL prior to appointment as CMD. As Director (Projects), he was responsible for implementing all new projects at NPCIL. An electrical engineer from HBTI, Kanpur, he graduated from the 17th Batch of Training School of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) in 1973. He started his career in operation of the nuclear power plants at Rawatbhata, Kota, in Rajasthan. He has over 38 years of experience and has made significant contributions in construction, commissioning, operation as well as renovation and modernisation of nuclear power reactors. Addressing NPCIL members, Mr Purohit said safety in all aspects of nuclear plants would be his highest priority. No stone would be left unturned in continuing the impeccable record of safety demonstrated during the last 42 years of commercial nuclear power generation, he added.

Press Trust of India

Purohit takes over as NPCIL CMD

New Delhi, Jun 25 (PTI) Kailash Chandra Purohit, who played a key role in the setting up all of India's new atomic power plants, today assumed charge as Chairman and Managing Director (CMD) of Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited.

Purohit took charge from Shiv Abhilash Bhardwaj, the Acting CMD, at a function in Mumbai which was attended by Atomic Energy Commission Chairman R K Sinha, BARC Director Sekhar Basu, former NPCIL CMD S K Jain among others.

Business Standard

Purohit takes over as NPCIL CMD

Press Trust of India / New Delhi June 25, 2012, 20:35

Kailash Chandra Purohit, who played a key role in the setting up all of India's new atomic power plants, today assumed charge as Chairman and Managing Director (CMD) of Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited.

Purohit took charge from Shiv Abhilash Bhardwaj, the Acting CMD, at a function in Mumbai which was attended by Atomic Energy Commission Chairman R K Sinha, BARC Director Sekhar Basu, former NPCIL CMD S K Jain among others.

Purohit was Director (Projects) on the NPCIL Board and has the experience in both indigenous Pressurized Heavy Water Reactors (PHWRs) and the Light Water Reactors (LWRs) being set up with international cooperation at Kudankulam.

Purohit said ensuring safety in all aspects of nuclear power plants in the country would be his highest priority.

He said no stone would be left unturned in continuing the record of safety demonstrated during the last 42 years of commercial nuclear power generation.

An electrical engineer from HBTI, Kanpur, Purohit graduated from the 17th Batch of Training School of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) in 1973.

He started his professional career in running nuclear power plants at Rawatbhata in Rajasthan, and obtained license for operation of these plants from the nuclear regulator.

He has over 38 years of experience and made significant contributions in construction, commissioning, operation as well as renovation and modernisation of nuclear reactors in the country.

The Economic Times

25 Jun, 2012, 09.26PM IST, The writer has posted comments on this articlePTI

Kailash Chandra Purohit takes over as NPCIL CMD

NEW DELHI: Kailash Chandra Purohit, who played a key role in the setting up all of India's new atomic power plants, today assumed charge as Chairman and Managing Director (CMD) of Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited.

Purohit took charge from Shiv Abhilash Bhardwaj, the Acting CMD, at a function in Mumbai which was attended by Atomic Energy Commission Chairman R K Sinha, BARC Director Sekhar Basu, former NPCIL CMD S K Jain among others.

Purohit was Director (Projects) on the NPCIL Board and has the experience in both indigenous Pressurized Heavy Water Reactors (PHWRs) and the Light Water Reactors (LWRs) being set up with international cooperation at Kudankulam.

Purohit said ensuring safety in all aspects of nuclear power plants in the country would be his highest priority. He said no stone would be left unturned in continuing the record of safety demonstrated during the last 42 years of commercial nuclear power generation.

An electrical engineer from HBTI, Kanpur, Purohit graduated from the 17th Batch of Training School of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) in 1973.

He started his professional career in running nuclear power plants at Rawatbhata in Rajasthan, and obtained license for operation of these plants from the nuclear regulator.

He has over 38 years of experience and made significant contributions in construction, commissioning, operation as well as renovation and modernisation of nuclear reactors in the country.

India InfoLine

K.C. Purohit takes over as CMD of NPCIL

India Infoline News Service / 09:14 , Jun 26, 2012

On taking over the charge of CMD, NPCIL, in his address to NPCIL parivar members, Purohit expressed that safety in all aspects of Nuclear Power Plants in India would be his highest priority.

Kailash Chandra Purohit took over as the Chairman & Managing Director of Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited (NPCIL) in a ceremony held today at NPCIL, Mumbai.

The occasion was graced by Dr. Ratan Kumar Sinha, Chairman, Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) & Secretary, Department of Atomic Energy (DAE), Shri. A.P. Joshi, Special Secretary, DAE, Shri Sekhar Basu, Director, Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC), S.A. Bhardwaj, Director (Technical), NPCIL, Dr. S.K. Jain, Former CMD, NPCIL and Chairman, WANO Governing Board, Tokyo Centre, senior officers and the employees of NPCIL.

On taking over the charge of CMD, NPCIL, in his address to NPCIL parivar members, Purohit expressed that safety in all aspects of Nuclear Power Plants in India would be his highest priority. He further asserted that no stone would be left unturned in continuing the impeccable record of safety demonstrated during the last 42 years of commercial nuclear power generation.

While seeking the cooperation of one and all in effectively meeting the challenges in implementing the Indian nuclear power programme safely and reliably, Shri Purohit expressed that the NPCIL's strong Parivar of 13000 members will continue to participate, as before, in taking NPCIL to newer heights in the coming years.

An electrical engineer from HBTI, Kanpur, he graduated from the 17th Batch of Training School of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre (BARC) in 1973. He started his professional career in operation of the Nuclear Power Plants at Rawatbhata, Kota in Rajasthan, and obtained license for operation of these plants from Regulatory Body in India. He has over 38 years of wide-ranging experience and has made significant contributions in construction, commissioning, operation as well as renovation and modernization of Nuclear Power Reactors in India. His expertise spans both indigenous Pressurized Heavy Water Reactors (PHWRs) and the latest large-size Light Water Reactors (LWRs) being set up with the international cooperation at Kudankulam. He also served as Governor of World Association of Nuclear Operators (WANO), Moscow Centre.

Shri Purohit is a Distinguished Scientist of Department of Atomic Energy (DAE) and he has held several key positions in NPCIL prior to appointment as CMD. As Director (Projects), he was responsible for implementing all new projects at NPCIL

PTI

Purohit takes over as NPCIL CMD

New Delhi, Jun 25 (PTI) Kailash Chandra Purohit, who played a key role in the setting up all of India's new atomic power plants, today assumed charge as Chairman and Managing Director (CMD) of Nuclear Power Corporation of India Limited.

Purohit took charge from Shiv Abhilash Bhardwaj, the Acting CMD, at a function in Mumbai which was attended by Atomic Energy Commission Chairman R K Sinha, BARC Director Sekhar Basu, former NPCIL CMD S K Jain among others.

Kailash Chandra Purohit to head NPCIL

Delhi News.net Monday 25th June, 2012

Nuclear scientist and technocrat Kailash Chandra Purohit took over as the new chairman-cum-managing director (CMD) of the Nuclear Power Corporation of India Ltd. (NPCIL) Monday, an official said.

The 58-year-old took over from officiating NPCIL CMD S.A. Bharadwaj following the retirement of S.K. Jain as the CMD last month.

An electrical engineer from Kanpur, Purohit graduated from the 1973 batch of Bhabha Atomic Research Centre here.

He started his career at the nuclear plants in Rawatbhata in his home state Rajasthan and obtained regulatory licences for them.

Over the years, he secured wide-ranging experience in construction, commissioning, operation, renovation and modernisation of various nuclear plants in the country.

Purohit is familiar with indigenous pressurised heavy water reactors and the latest large-size light water reactors, being set up with international collaboration in Kudankulam in Tamil Nadu.

A former governor of World Association of Nuclear Operators, Moscow, Purohit served as Kudankulam project director before becoming NPCIL director, projects.